THE NEW YORK CONVENTION. J. M. Keating, Esq., will leave for New York this afternoon, as the represintative of the APPEAL, during the sitting of the most important convention that ever assembled in the United States. As a journalist, Mr. Keating ranks among the most wide-awake and intelligent representatives of the press in the Southern States, and we expect to be fully posted by bles with regard to all movement and proceedings which may be of interest to the great public. We com mend Mr. Kenting to our friends and to the Conservative Democracy, at the Fourth of July Convention, as being en titled to their best offices and as being delegated to represent the APPEAL in every respect,
